

The Margaret Anstee Centre Graduate Events Fund

Newnham College Cambridge

The Margaret Anstee Centre for Global Studies invites applications to a new fund, created to support Newnham graduate students (MPhil and PhD) in hosting academic events on (a) themes related to research being carried out in the Centre (see <https://www.margaretansteecentre.org>); or (b) on the wider research remit of the Centre, which is to promote research into economic and social development and international relations. The Centre also hosts the Archives of the Disappeared, an interdisciplinary initiative that addresses the challenges of research, documentation, and evidence collection in the study of communities, social movements, life-worlds and cultures that have been destroyed through acts of large-scale violence.

Information for applicants:

- Applications will be accepted for up to £250.00 per event.
- Applications can only be accepted from graduate students currently studying at Newnham College.
- Proposed events can take any format (e.g. workshops, seminars, talks, panel discussions, film screenings etc.), but must be related to the Centre's research remit.
- Some administrative support may be possible.
- During the 2019/20 academic year, the Fund will run two funding cycles, with application deadlines of 15th November 2019 and 15th February 2020. Proposed events must be scheduled to take place between one and six months after submission of an application.
- Applications should be no more than 1-2 pages in length, and should clearly outline: the name(s) of the event organiser(s) and the course on which she is enrolled; the focus and objectives of the event; names of speakers to be invited (if relevant); who the event will appeal to and expected audience numbers; a provisional date and time for the event and a budget for costs to be covered by an award from the Fund.
- Applications should be emailed to tricia.rowland@newn.cam.ac.uk
- The applications will be assessed and the successful one selected by the Director and Research Fellows of the Margaret Anstee Centre.
